Re: Response to August 9, 2007 General Notice Letter

Status of 8915 Sorenson Avenue ("Angeles Site")

As the EPA is aware, Angeles Chemical Company, Inc. ("Angeles") is currently subject to a February 1993 Department of Toxic Substances Control ("DTSC") Imminent or Substantial Endangerment order. Currently all on-site characterization of the groundwater and soil of the Angeles Site has been completed at the direction of the DTSC. Greve, the current owner of the Angeles Site, is operating a Soil Vapor Extraction ("SVE") in a cyclical fashion. Currently there is also a proposal to have air sparging done on the shallow groundwater on the Angeles Site. This proposal has not been approved by the DTSC yet.

As previously provided in our August 14, 2006 letter, to the extent that Angeles company documents still exist, all records are currently in the possession of legal counsel in San Diego, California. A box level index to the business records was attached to the August 14 letter as "Exhibit Index." As previously mentioned, to the extent that the U.S. EPA desires to inspect the business records, arrangements may be made with counsel. Also attached to the August 14, 2006 letter was "DVD 1 of 2" which included documents that have been produced to Angeles in the Angeles v. McKesson litigation by various governmental agencies. It is the understanding of Angeles and Greve, that the U.S. EPA has already obtained a copy of the California Department of Toxic Substances Control ("DTSC") File for the Angeles Site. Despite this Angeles did produce all reports with the August 14, 2006 letter on "DVD 2/2."

Very truly yours,

Jeffery Caufield
